Project Sticker Shock: Description and Purpose

National and Maine surveys have shown that many underage drinkers access alcohol through adults over 21 who can purchase it legally for them. Maine law prohibits both providing alcohol to minors (other than your own child in your home) and allowing minors to consume in a place that is under your control, i.e. your home or car, even if you don't supply the alcohol.

The Sticker Shock Campaign is designed to reach adults who might purchase alcohol legally and provide it to minors. Stickers warning about the penalties for furnishing alcohol to minors are placed on all multi-packs of beer, wine coolers, and other alcohol products that might appeal to underage drinkers. The impact of the stickers is increased by media coverage of the event and by longer-lasting signs to be displayed by participating retailers. The project represents a partnership between youth, retailers, concerned parents and community members, prevention professionals, and law enforcement with the goal of educating potential furnishers, raising public awareness about underage drinking, and strengthening the deterrent effect of the law against providing alcohol to minors.

Background:

The first Sticker Shock campaign was designed by a group of youth in Pennsylvania in 1998, who started locally in their community and then expanded the project statewide in subsequent years. In February 2001, Sticker Shock first came to Maine when the Fort Kent Area Community Voices group adapted the idea and implemented it in their area. The dream of these Fort Kent area youth was that the project would go statewide in Maine as well.

In May 2001, their dream came true. The Maine Office of Substance Abuse, Maine Bureau of Liquor Enforcement, and other Underage Drinking Task Force members joined forces to sponsor a pilot project, with funding from the U.S. Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention, to expand the work of Fort Kent Area Community Voices. This initiative was particularly timely, with the intention of raising awareness around underage drinking issues right before the Memorial Day weekend, graduation season, and summer vacation. More than 15 youth/community groups blanketed the stores in their towns, and several worked with local media to increase the impact of their efforts. In addition, approximately 400 stores, including some entire chains, participated by having their employees put the stickers on even when there was no youth group participating in their area. The overwhelming success of this pilot project has provided the foundation for expanded campaigns in future years. The second Project Sticker Shock campaign will take place during December 2001, kicking off during Alcohol Awareness Week (December 3-7) and running through the holiday season.

Guidelines for Implementation of Sticker Shock, December 2001

1. Please plan your local stickering efforts between December 3rd and December 31st. Whenever possible, ensure that people understand that this timing is intentionally linked to Alcohol Awareness Week (the first week in December every year) and the holiday season.
2. All youth participating in visiting retailers and stickering beer should have a permission slip/media release form signed by their parent/guardian and kept on file by an adult coordinating the group's efforts. All adults involved should also sign this form so that it can function as a media release form and be kept on file as well. A sample permission slip/media release form is included in this guide.
3. Whenever youth are stickering beer, an adult chaperone must be present to supervise. This is crucial for many reasons, including the need to ensure that you are not criticized for breaking the law yourselves, since the handling of alcohol by minors is also prohibited by law (unless it is in the scope of employment).
4. At any media events where youth will be handling beer, you should have a representative from law enforcement present. It is a good idea to have law enforcement involved whenever possible, but it is especially essential at media events, again to avoid any criticism about youth handling beer illegally, as well as to demonstrate the value of youth and law enforcement working together.
5. Please be fair to all alcohol retailers by offering them equal opportunity to participate. If you live in a large town, it may be difficult to visit all retailers personally to invite their participation. In that case, send a letter to all alcohol retailers inviting their participation, and then follow-up with a personal visit (youth are most effective in this role!) to those whose participation is most important to you.
6. The real impact of the Sticker Shock campaign is not in the stickers themselves, since once the stickered alcohol is all sold the stickers are gone. The real impact is achieved by raising awareness of the furnishing laws on a larger scale, particularly through media coverage of your activities. Plan how you will maximize these impacts.
7. Please help us in our efforts to evaluate the effectiveness of this campaign. Return the Team Evaluation Form to us as soon as possible after the end of the campaign. Also, please ask your retail partners to fill out the Merchant Evaluation form within two weeks after the campaign and return it to the Office of Substance Abuse by January 15th. If you would like to re-visit your retailers and collect those surveys, and then return the whole set to the Office of Substance Abuse, that would guarantee that we get them back and give you an opportunity to get feedback directly from the stores and build your relationship with them further.

This information will help us get additional media coverage after the campaign about how the Sticker Shock campaign went, hopefully to celebrate the absence of alcohol-related tragedies during the holiday season, and to remind people to obey the laws against furnishing all year long. Your evaluations will also help us to make the next Sticker Shock Campaign even more effective.

8. On any press releases or other written public materials, please include the following language (can be in small print at the bottom):
Project Sticker Shock is sponsored by the Maine Office of Substance Abuse and the Maine Underage Drinking Task Force with funding from the U.S. Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention.

General Suggestions for Implementing the Sticker Shock Campaign:

1. Youth should take lead roles whenever possible. The message of Project Sticker Shock is most effective when it is delivered by youth.
2. Don't be afraid to ask stores to participate. Most retailers want to sell alcohol responsibly and be upstanding members of the community, and most will want to participate. Assume the best and be confident that you are offering them an opportunity to partner with you to meet a mutual goal. Most of them will be happy to participate.
3. Keep a camera handy and take lots of pictures. Take a picture of youth putting stickers on in every store that participates. Invest in some disposable cameras if you have multiple teams so that each team can take pictures. Create a brag book to be able to show others the work your team did and the partnerships you developed.
4. Figure out a way to get your participating retail partners some positive recognition, as well as other partners, such as your local law enforcement. Possible ideas include:
 - take out an ad in your local paper, naming them and thanking them for their participation
 - create a thank you certificate for them to hang up
 - send them a personalized thank you letter signed by your whole group
 - etc....
5. The adults involved should also plan to celebrate and recognize the work of the youth who guide and carry out this initiative – get pizza after the stickering is completed, encourage recognition for their efforts from the school board, etc...
6. Have fun and be proud of yourself for doing something that will save lives and make your community a healthier, happier, and safer place to live! Know that your hard work is appreciated!

Sticker Shock Action Plan: Step-by-Step

STEP 1: Meet as a group and develop a local implementation plan

- Identify the alcohol retailers in your community.
- Decide whether to send them an invitation letter and/or visit them personally to invite them to participate.
- Distribute permission slips to each participating youth and adult volunteer (necessary for all, because it serves as the media release form as well).
- Assign responsibilities and deadlines (you may want to use the Action Plan form)
- Establish future meeting dates/times.

STEP 2: Contact alcohol retailers and line up participating stores

- Send letters/make visits to each store to invite them to participate. Decide how you will follow up if they can't give you an immediate answer.
- Develop a schedule for visiting each store to place the stickers on between December 3rd and December 31st.
- Make appointments with each store and decide who (youth and adults) will visit each store on the agreed-upon day. If possible, you may want to do all the stores in town in the same trip, if one team can do them all. If there are too many stores for this, you may want to set up more than one team and divide up the stores.
- When you make your appointment, find out how many multi-packs of beer, wine coolers, etc. are likely to be accessible to you on the day you visit so you can roughly plan how many stickers you will need at each store (plan to sticker only the alcohol that is easily accessible – only store staff should move or rearrange large boxes, not youth or adult volunteers!). You should also ask how many posters they would display and whether they will continue to put more stickers on after the ones you have done run out (many stores are happy to have their clerks put a sticker on whenever a customer purchases alcohol). In this case find out how many they would need for the rest of December, and plan to leave them that many. At least a week in advance, check to make sure you have enough stickers and posters. Call the OSA Information and Resource Center at 1-800-499-0027 if you need more.

STEP 3: Develop a media plan

- Do you want to have a media event to kick off your local campaign? A sample agenda is included to help you think about special guests to invite, talking points, etc. Send out a media advisory to all local newspapers and television stations a week or two in advance inviting them to the media event; follow-up with phone calls if possible. Send out a detailed press release the morning of (or before) the media event.
- A big media event is not the only option. You might choose to call one reporter who has written a story on your activities in the past and invite them to accompany your group as you do the stickering (be sure to tell them it will be a great photo op!) and write a story about the campaign. If you know a reporter is joining you, be sure to have a local law enforcement representative along, and think about whether it might be advantageous to invite other officials, such as town council members (who grant liquor licenses) or your local legislative representatives.
- Other options include sending an Op-Ed piece to your local paper, and/or having different people write Letters to the Editor to encourage adults to think twice before providing alcohol to youth, encourage parents not to allow youth to drink at graduation parties, recognize the youth for taking action on this issue, praise the retailers for participating, etc.

- Once you have identified the pieces of your media plan, assign responsibilities and deadlines.

STEP 4: Do It!

- Be sure all youth and adults involved have turned in a permission slip/media release.
- Fill out the tracking form listing each retailer, so that we can total the numbers and make a list of all the groups and stores that participated for the whole state. Return it to the Office of Substance Abuse by January 15th along with your Team Evaluation form and any local newspaper articles.
- Have fun and take pictures!
- Avoid liability issues – youth should not be in the coolers, back rooms, or storage areas of the establishments. Plan to sticker only the alcohol that is easily accessible. Offer to leave additional stickers with the store manager if they wish to place more stickers on the less-accessible items themselves, and/or if they are willing to continue stickering through the New Year's holiday (some merchants commented in their evaluations last time that they found it worked well to have clerks put the stickers on at the counter as each alcohol purchase was made). Also, don't forget to give them one or more signs to display.
- Stickers should be placed on the cardboard in a way that does not cover the brand name or the UPC symbol. Do not place stickers directly on bottles or cans.
- Videotape the news coverage and clip newspaper articles.

STEP 5: Celebrate and recognize participants / Evaluate your efforts

- Recognize all participants and find a way to publicly thank them: youth, adult volunteers, law enforcement, retailers, etc.
- Have a post-campaign debriefing to talk about what you accomplished and identify anything that could be improved next time.
- Fill out the Team Evaluation Form and send it with your store info forms and copies of any local newspaper articles on Sticker Shock (as well as video newsclips if possible) to: Office of Substance Abuse, attn: Becca Matusovich, 159 State House Station, Augusta ME 04333.
- Encourage your participating retailers to send/fax back their Merchant Evaluation form by January 15th (if you wish, visit them again to collect it and thank them for participating).

Dear (Name of Store/Owner/Manager):

Communities all over Maine and the U.S. are trying to figure out what they can do to prevent the alcohol-related deaths or injuries that are too often associated with the holiday season. This year, you have a unique opportunity to partner with a group of concerned youth in our community to recognize Alcohol Awareness week (December 3-7, 2001) and take action to prevent such a tragedy from happening in our town.

_____ (Group Name) is a group of youth and adults working together to address issues related to underage drinking in _____ (community/ies). Between December 3rd and 31st, we will be participating in Maine's second statewide Sticker Shock Campaign, sponsored by the Maine Office of Substance Abuse and the Maine Underage Drinking Task Force. This project aims to reach those individuals over age 21 who legally purchase alcohol and provide it to a minor. The campaign consists of youth-designed stickers being adhered to multi-packs of alcoholic beverages (beer, wine coolers, etc) in participating retail stores. A team of youth, accompanied by an adult chaperone, will visit each store at a time of mutual convenience during the scheduled campaign dates, to place the stickers on and hang up the 8 x 11" poster(s). If you prefer to have your employees place the stickers on and/or hang the posters on your own during those dates, we will be happy to simply deliver the appropriate number to you.

We recognize your desire to sell alcohol responsibly and would like to showcase your business as a cooperating partner in this effort. To prepare youth and media schedules, we need you to respond. If you have questions, or to confirm your participation in this event, please contact:

_____ (Name of local contact person, contact phone #, email, etc.)

Thank you for your kind attention. We look forward to working with you in this public information campaign to prevent adults from providing alcohol to youth.

Sincerely,

Kickoff the application of the Stickers

First several should be jointly applied, with an adult guest speaker holding the beer and a youth applying the sticker

Notes:

- Media events should last no longer than 15 minutes. Each speaker should only speak for a minute or two.
- Schedule your event no later than mid-day if you hope to make that evening's news &/or the next day's paper.
- Provide good photo opportunities.
- Hang your group's banner if you have one to get additional publicity from any pictures that are taken.
- Send out a media advisory about a week before the event to all local newspapers and television stations. If you aren't sure how to get it to the right person, look up the general number for the paper or station in the phone book, then call and ask which reporter might be most interested in a story about youth taking action to reduce underage drinking and where to fax the information.
- Fax out a press release to all your contacts again immediately following your media event. The press release should have more detail, including quotes – if you do a good job, some papers will run a story that is basically a reprint of your press release.
- Have certain people, including several youth, who are prepared to be interviewed by reporters, and have 3 major points that everybody involved is prepared to make in case they are interviewed. Don't wait for the reporter to ask the right question – make your prepared points fit whatever question they ask.
- Have media kits available that include: your press release; list of speakers; list of participating stores; information about your group; fact sheets; a sample sticker; and other relevant materials (i.e. brochures describing Maine's Liquor Laws – you can ask for them when you call to get your stickers)
- Don't expect too much. Most press conferences aren't the way they look on TV. You may only get one or two reporters and photographers. If another big story breaks the day of your event, you may get no media representatives. Be prepared to follow up with your press contacts and reschedule the photo op if they are still interested in the story before the campaign ends.

Local Youth Kick Off Public Awareness Campaign “Project Sticker Shock” to Target Adults who Provide Alcohol to Youth

(community) – (group name) members kicked off “Project Sticker Shock,” a youth-led initiative to change adult attitudes about selling and providing alcohol to minors at (location) on (date). This public awareness campaign will be taking place in stores statewide this month. The project is sponsored by the Maine Office of Substance Abuse and the Maine Underage Drinking Task Force to bring attention to the issue during Alcohol Awareness Week (December 3-7) and the holiday season.

Local youth from (group name) are part of a movement of youth statewide working with participating stores to spread “Sticker Shock” waves across Maine in an effort to reach adults who might be tempted to buy alcohol for youth under 21 who can’t buy it legally themselves. The florescent orange-and-black stickers stand out on the beer cases for all to see, and provide a strong reminder: “Providing Alcohol to Minors is Illegal! Fines are up to $2,000 &/or up to one year in jail!”

“Adults need to set a better example for kids,” said _____, youth member. “When adults supply alcohol to youth it sends us a very mixed message. Underage drinking is not a teen problem, but a community problem. Adults, youth, law enforcement, and retail stores all need to be part of the solution.”

Project Sticker Shock is sponsored by the Maine Office of Substance Abuse and the Maine Underage Drinking Task Force, and funded by a federal grant from the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention. The Sticker Shock campaign was first introduced in Maine in February of 2001 by youth in the Fort Kent area who designed the stickers and posters that are now being used in this statewide campaign. This week, youth in _____ communities around the state are kicking off the campaign in their towns.

(Group name) recognized (Store hosting media event) for its desire to manage the sale of alcohol responsibly and wanted to showcase the business as a partner in this effort. Representatives from the media, law enforcement, state and local officials (name special guest speakers if relevant), and employees from (Store name) participated in the kickoff event by holding cases of beer while youth applied the stickers.

“A strong community message is sent when a business like (Store name) takes responsibility for speaking out against underage drinking,” said (Group name) coordinator (coordinator’s name).

Local police chief (or Bureau of Liquor Enforcement Representative), (Name), offered a particularly timely message. “Allowing minors to consume alcohol in your home, or any place under your control, carries the same penalties under the law as furnishing, even if you don’t supply the alcohol” he reminded parents. “The holiday season is a particularly high-risk time of year, but we don’t want people to forget that providing alcohol to minors, or allowing them to drink in a place under your control, is against the law all year round.”

Youth leaders from (group name) and other local participating retail stores - (list stores here or “see attached list”) - are working together to create a safer, healthier lifestyle by combating the problem of underage drinking. Alcohol has been identified as the number one drug of choice among Maine youth, and according to local youth, one of the easiest substances to obtain. The Sticker Shock campaign hopes to cause adults to think twice before making it any easier for youth to access alcohol.

Sample Talking Points/ Fact Sheet for Preparation for Media Interviews

Points you might want to make:

- Alcohol is extremely easy for youth to get. Adults are supposed to be the responsible ones, but one of the most common ways youth get alcohol is to get someone over 21 to buy it for them.
- Adults send very mixed messages about the acceptability of alcohol use and underage drinking.
- Young people who drink should be held responsible for that decision. But it is adults who produce, advertise, promote, and model alcohol use. And it is adults who buy the overwhelming majority of all alcohol and who profit from the sale of alcohol. Holding young people solely responsible is not fair.
- Alcohol Awareness Week and the holiday season is a good time of year to heighten awareness of these problems, but the law is there all year round, and adults are supplying minors with alcohol all year round.
- As a parent, I don't want my son or daughter drinking, and I certainly don't want other parents providing alcohol to my son/daughter or allowing my son/daughter to drink in their house.
- Retail stores make a profit from selling alcohol. This project allows them to help prevent problems by trying to reach those adults who buy alcohol legally and give it to kids.
- The drinking age is 21 for a reason – alcohol is a factor in many preventable teenage deaths and injuries, in the majority of sexual assaults, unplanned sexual activity, and sexually transmitted diseases among youth. New research is also demonstrating the damage that alcohol does to the brains and bodies of young people that are still developing. Young people who begin drinking at age 21 or older are 4 times less likely to become alcohol dependent later in life than those who begin drinking at age 15 (for youth who begin drinking at age 15, more than 1 in 3 will become alcoholics at some point in their lives; for those who wait until age 17, the rate is 1 in 4, at age 19, the rate is almost 1 in 5, and for those who wait until age 21, the rate is 1 in 10). It's worth the wait.
- In Maine, the medical costs alone that result from alcohol-related injuries/deaths caused by underage drinking total more than $18 million a year (study by the Pacific Institute for Research and Evaluation).
- Parents may not want to recognize when their own children are using alcohol. A 1997 survey showed that although 33% of high school students said they had binge (5 or more drinks on one occasion) in the past month, only 3% of high school parents thought that their teen had done so (source: Drug Strategies, Keeping Score).
- Maine law prohibits both furnishing alcohol to minors and allowing minors to drink in a place that is under your control (even if you don't provide the alcohol). Both offenses carry the same penalty. People can also be sued under the Maine Liquor Liability Act for damages caused by an intoxicated minor to whom they served alcohol. A new law as of September 2001 will make it possible for furnishers to be charged with a felony if someone dies or is seriously injured because of the actions of an intoxicated minor to whom they furnished alcohol.

Note: For additional information on the Maine laws see "A Guide to Understanding Maine's Liquor and Liability Laws" (this is a purple & green brochure – call the IRC at 1-800-499-0027 for a copy)

Data from the 2000 Maine Youth Drug and Alcohol Use Survey - conducted every two years by the Office of Substance Abuse Survey results for students in grades 6-12 (30,000+ students surveyed) demonstrated that:

- Alcohol is the drug of choice for youth – more of the students surveyed said they had used alcohol in the past 30 days than any other drug, including cigarettes.
- The majority of youth said they don't drink. 58% of high school students surveyed had consumed no alcohol in the past 30 days.
- Binge drinking is not the norm. Fewer than 25% of high school students said they had had five or more drinks on one or more occasions during the past 2 weeks. However, almost 1 in 3 high school seniors said they had been binge drinking at least once in the past 2 weeks.
- Youth are not getting clear messages about alcohol use:
 - Barely half (52%) of the high school students surveyed said that it is "wrong" or "very wrong" for someone their age to drink alcohol regularly
 - 19% said their parents, and 30% said adults in their neighborhood, think it is "not at all wrong" or "a little bit wrong" for a kid their age to drink alcohol
 - 78% of high school students surveyed said their parents have clear rules about alcohol and other drugs, but only 33% said they would be caught by their parents if they drank alcohol without their permission. Less than 10% thought they would be caught by police.
